

Experience the AAFP

Frequently Asked Questions

What is the program?

Experience the AAFP is designed to familiarize Active new physician members with AAFP programs, products, and services. To that end, it provides discounts on select AAFP courses and the Scientific Assembly in addition to a variety of select educational resources.

Who are Active New Physician members?

Active new physician members have completed a residency program within the past seven years and hold an Active membership status with the AAFP. (For example, if you completed your residency program in 2008, you would be in your first year as a new physician member; if you completed your residency in 2007, you would be in your second year as a new physician member; if you completed residency in 2002, you would be in your seventh and final year as a new physician member.)

What are the program's benefits?

As a new physician member, you receive the following discounts for every year that you are eligible. The discount is applied when you register in the "new physician" category.

- $75 discount off the Scientific Assembly
- $75 discount off Family Medicine Board Review Self-Study Packages
- $75 discount off a Family Medicine Board Review Express course
- $75 discount off any AAFP-produced clinical CME course
- $50 off Self-Assessment Module (SAM) Working Groups put on by AAFP
- 25% off: FPM Enhanced Pocket Guide to 1997 Documentation Guidelines; AAFP FP Essential Subscription; AAFP FP Audio Subscription; Combined FP Audio & FP Essentials Subscription, FP Comprehensive CD-ROM; AAFP Self-study CME learning package; Physician Office Laboratory (POL) Microscopy Atlas
- 20% OFF: Software titles from AAFP Mobile Solutions center
- FREE – 1ST year registration ($75 savings) on AAFP-Proficiency Testing Program for Office Laboratories

In addition, you will be eligible to receive discounts on a variety of select educational resources. Some discounts will be rotated each year, offering a selection of materials with benefits appropriate for various stages of your career development.

Where do I sign up?

You don't! All Active new physician members will receive the discounts automatically.
